Director's Report

Mark's State Library Association Meeting will now meet only every other month, allowing him more time to spend on CAPL issues.

The Library of Michigan is going to remain in its building but is considering dispersing the non-Michigan genealogy collection. The Michigan genealogy collection will remain.

Mark expects another decrease in revenue this year from lower property taxes but feels the Board has done an excellent management job keeping CAPL working.

State funds will be cut throughout the state. Several large down-state libraries are closing completely. Petoskey is suffering a large shortfall and will have to cut hours and close for two weeks with workers being unpaid. Cheboygan is okay for now.

Friends' Meeting July 13 by LuAnne Thomas

Meeting called to order at 1:10 p.m. by Gwen Kuehn.

Present: Gwen Kuehn, LuAnne Thomas, Mel Eno, Mark Bronson, Suzanne Zinnkosko, Nancy Nowitzke, Fay Gibeau, Jacque Thompson, Rosita White, Marian North & Pat Hubbard.

The June Minutes were approved as printed in the Friends' Newsletter.

Marian said she sent out nine reminders for dues payment and six responded.

Jacque Thompson reported a balance of $3,929.91.

Mel said the Art Show attracted more than 700 visitors, and they plan on another show in the fall. The Fiddlers Restring was a great success; there were about 200 people; some had to stand in the kitchen.

The fly tying program was a success with 17 men and women attending; Mel will attempt to have another class in the fall. Computer classes should begin in the fall. There are many children and adult programs coming up.

Lots of people attending the Art Show bought Book Nook "grab bags." People are coming in every day including days the Nook is closed. The Book Nook workers list is filled through August. Suzanne would like to sell the mugs, t-shirts, and notes; Gwen will make signs advertising the "grab bags."

Friends has designated Saturday, July 31st as "Weed Eaters Day." Come and help clean the gardens at 10:00 a.m. Wear a funny sun hat. Iced tea will be provided.

The annual Fashion Day is penciled in for Thursday, October 21st. Pat will check with Billie's and the Chamber of Commerce.
