Special Report & Help!

Book Nook / Gift of Reading

Sue Johnson, Mary Ellen Sheridan and I recently weeded the Book Nook of duplicates, tired looking books and some that had been around forever, to contribute them to the County Humane Society sale.

Weeding may become an annual event. If you would like to help in the future, contact Sue Johnson, davesusanjohnson@gmail.com. You can pick the section to work on and we will provide training.

On the first day of the County Fair, Leslie Carmen, Sue and I distributed free books to children as part of our GOF program. We will repeat this at Festival Square for the downtown Halloween activity and in the library when the reindeer visit in December.

Last year we incorporated GOF into the EarthWeek Plus celebration, distributing non-fiction science & nature books. We purchase a few books but most are pulled from those donated.

Friends Membership / Meetings

Membership remains stable although we are losing older members through attrition. Membership and donations are critically important to what friends donate to the library.

Our Friends are very generous and this does make a difference. We have membership meetings, four times a year, April, June, September and November. Meetings are open to everyone and usually don't last more than an hour. Some think these are only for officers, but that is not the case. Through the years we tried having presentations, speakers, visits to other libraries and luncheons but found with busy schedules, we never had good attendance. So we've morphed into 4 short meetings, which give us a chance to find out what's going on with the library, the programs, and do a bit of friends business.

It is important for members to know you are most welcome to attend these meetings. They begin at 1 pm, the second Tuesday of the month and are a good way to keep up with library news, I meet other Friends and have a chance to talk about books we've enjoyed. Please feel you are welcome.

Book Nook Help Needed

We need Friends to help in the Book nook. This volunteer activity is not strenuous at all. For those who are comfortable straightening books or help put books away, your help is most welcome. Others would prefer to sit at the desk, chat with customers and take money, we need you too.

Many do more than one session per month because we do not have enough volunteers. The best way to find out what's going on is to stop in when the Book Nook is open, talk with the volunteer and have her show you around so you can see exactly what we do, We do need all to become more involved if at all possible.

Future of the Friends

Sometimes, when Gwen is trying hard to find more people to fill in slots for the book nook, we question if we can keep the Friends group going.

Comments as to what you would like to see us do or what you would be willing to help us do would be most valuable. This is one reason coming to meetings gives you a chance to input ideas.

It is new ideas that make this group vibrant. Contact Sue Johnson with any suggestions or ideas. I have been a Friend since the early 90's. This is a wonderful organization and the library needs us.

Financier JP Morgan possessed a comprehensive collection of art – from rare books and prints to ancient artefacts.

In 1924, his son, JP Morgan Jr, donated his father's library to the public and the Morgan Library & Museum was born. Located on Madison Avenue and 36th street in Manhattan, this extraordinary structure was built between 1902 and 1906 by Charles Follen McKim, and it occupies half the city block.

Since 1924, several additions have been added to house a growing collection, including an annex in 1928, a brownstone in 1988 and an outdoor garden in 1991.

Led by Renzo Piano, in 2006 the building underwent its most extensive renovation yet to improve visitor accessibility as well as gallery and archival space.
